Third Sunday of Easter

Hidden in Plain Sight

On Easter Monday my wife, Kelly, and I left for a ten-day pilgrimage to Italy to celebrate our 40th wedding anniversary. We had been to Italy twice before on pilgrimage, and each time some place or something special stood out as the most memorable and profound faith encounter.

We visited the major basilicas of Rome: St. Peter, Mary Major, John Lateran, and St. Paul Outside the Walls. We went to San Giovanni Rotunda and saw the uncorrupted remains of St. Padre Pio. We traveled up the Adriatic Coast to Lanciano, Loretto, and eventually to the interior town of Assisi. In Assisi, we visited the two basilicas of St. Francis and St. Clare, and walked through the little church of the Porzunculo in the basilica of St. Mary of the Angels.

The land was beautiful and the city was exciting, but the most memorable, most holy encounter happened in a most unusual way. We were in St. Peter square on Wednesday, April 19th for the Pope's weekly audience. In a crowd that easily exceeded 30,000 people, we sat in plastic chairs waiting for our glimpse of the Pope riding by in the Pope-mobile. We had strategically placed ourselves at one of the barricades behind a young couple with two small children, hoping that the Holy Father would stop and maybe even embrace and kiss one of the children. After waiting for almost two hours, the Pope's special white vehicle turned down the lane where we were standing, and sure enough he motioned for it to stop right in front of us. With my camera ready, I took several shots of the Pope's back as he first embraced a child on the side opposite from us. Then I saw the parents hand their child over to the Pope's security guard, and I got a great shot of the Pope. But my close moment, the one that still touches me even now, is the expression on the guard's face. I had expected to see the grandfatherly glimmer in the Pope's eyes. I had expected to have a sense of excitement to be less than twenty feet from the Holy Father, but I did not expect to see this expression on the face of the security guard.

The layers of security that surround the Pope are obvious from the security screening and bag check as you enter St. Peter square, to the Swiss Guard in their medieval uniform, to the men in dark suits with listening devices in their ears that surround the Pope as he moves through the crowd. I am sure that these men take very seriously the grave responsibility to protect the Pope at all costs, even if it means giving their lives.

But, I was struck by the genuine joy on the face of the one security guard who took the baby from the couple standing in front of us so that the Pope could embrace the child. His joy seems to perfectly reflect the joy on the face of the Pope. Like Pope Francis, this man is full of the joy of life, of encountering people, and of serving Christ with the gifts he has been given. The Pope, the Vicar of Christ, is obviously gifted with a great pastoral sensitivity that is evident in all those around him, even those who bear the grave responsibility of protecting his life.

This may seem strange, but I am still moved by this man, living out his faith, in his everyday job. I'm sure that he is often captured on videos and photographs, but rarely seen.

A simple man, living his faith, hidden in plain sight.

The Story of the Rosie's Community Garden

By: Michele Harris

It all started one year ago with the seed money from winning the grand prize at the St. Paul Drawdown. While I had been introduced to the idea of a community garden by a friend 7 years ago, it wasn't the right time to pursue it. When this opportunity arrived, Thomas and I knew immediately what the winnings would be used for.

The garden is named in memory of Thomas' mother, Rose Harris, who passed away 15 years ago. His father, Tom Harris, was a master gardener, who passed away this past September just before his 80th birthday. Rose and Tom were among the founding members of St. Paul Parish back in 1978. Tom and Rose were wonderful examples of servants for St. Paul and the local community. For example, Rose was always ready to cook a meal full of fresh fruits and vegetables for someone in need. They both taught and blessed many people through their years of service and we would like to continue their example.

Rosie's Garden is even further connected to our St. Paul family as it sits on land purchased from parishioners George and Peggy Hamilton. Tom and Rose knew the Hamiltons very well and served with them on many charity boards. I visited with Peggy before her passing and explained how this piece of their family homestead would be used. She was thrilled to know that it would bless so many people.

The purpose of Rosie's Garden is twofold. The main goal is to grow fresh produce with all volunteer labor, and donate it to food banks and shelters. What really gets to the heart of the mission of Rosie's Garden is how the community comes into play to make it happen. Our motto says it best... Grow Love, Show Love! It is the journey of serving others by growing the food from God's Earth. Over this past year, Rosie's Garden has attracted hundreds of volunteers of all ages and walks of life, and has received support through cash donations, in-kind materials, and skilled labor surpassing $50,000 in value and providing a beautiful, divinely inspired space for all to enjoy.

The second goal of the garden is to educate our Youth and give them an opportunity to learn how and where we get our food. It's about connecting this young generation with older generations to show them how to plant a seed in the ground, water, fertilize, and carefully tend it, and watch it grow into an edible fruit or vegetable.

We invite everyone to join us this Sunday afternoon from 2:30- 4:30, as we gather at the garden at 161 Fannin Landing Circle (weather permitting.) We will enjoy food, refreshments, music, tours, and a blessing of the garden. Many thanks to the St. Paul members who have already been involved as board members and the dozens of St. Paul families who have been digging with us and making themselves available anytime something was needed to be done.
