

Nemo dat quod non habet

Over the past 50 years, the Catholic Church has placed an extraordinary emphasis on the laity's responsibility to evangelize. Pope Paul VI, in his Apostolic Exhortation Evangelization in the Modern World, states that the Church "exists in order to evangelize." (Evangelii Nuntiandi, 14)

The Holy Spirit calls us to become evangelizers by instilling in our hearts and minds a keen awareness that we have something of value to share with others. True evangelization does not rise out of an arrogant triumphalism, but out of a humble zeal, like a beggar who longs to share with his fellow beggars where he has found a crust of bread.

Pope Francis in his Apostolic Exhortation, Evangelii Gaudium (Joy of the Gospel), states clearly that the impetus for evangelization flows from the life changing experience of coming to know Jesus:

"It is impossible to persevere in a fervent evangelization unless we are convinced from personal experience that it is not the same thing to have known Jesus as not to have known him, not the same thing to walk with him as to walk blindly, not the same thing to hear his word as not to know it, and not the same thing to contemplate him, to worship him, to find our peace in him, as not to. ... A person who is not convinced, enthusiastic, certain and in love, will convince nobody." (Evangelii Gaudium, 266).

If we are to be authentic evangelizers, we must first be committed to nurturing our own relationship with Jesus. If we allow our relationship to grow cold, then we really have nothing of value to share with others. There is a Latin proverb that captures this essential idea quite nicely:

Nemo dat quod non habet* (One cannot give what one does not have.)

Essential to nourishing our personal relationship with Jesus is the need for prayer. Pope Francis, in reflecting on this point, highlights the need for prayer and devotion if an evangelizer is to be effective in his/her work:

"Spirit-filled evangelizers are evangelizers who pray and work. ... Without prolonged moments of adoration, of prayerful encounter with the word, of sincere conversation with the Lord, our work easily becomes meaningless; we lose energy as a result of weariness and difficulties, and our fervour dies out. ... 'we must reject the temptation to offer a privatized and individualistic spirituality which ill accords with the demands of charity, to say nothing of the implications of the incarnation.'" (Evangelii Gaudium, 262)

Remember, you can't give what you don't have! (Nemo dat quod non habet.)

To Live as the Body Of Christ
